

BLS Provider Certification Options

Some positions with Saint Joseph Health System require a Basic Life Support for Healthcare Providers certification from American Heart Association (AHA).

If you do not have an active, unexpired BLS Provider certification, you will need to complete a course to receive it prior to starting orientation.

Find classes & more information by logging into your Healthstream, located under the To-Do list tab. The current BLS is titled RQI.

AHA (American Heart Association)

